Metro Parks Visual Arts

Metro Parks Visual Arts Program offers affordable and accessible painting and pottery classes in five studios across three locations. Over 38 weekly classes are typically offered in three different sessions (Fall, Winter/Spring, and Summer). Workshops that focus on specific skills or techniques are offered in between sessions. Visual Art classes are held in well-appointed studios in Centennial Art Center (CAC), Bellevue Community Center and West Park Community Center.

These classes are taught by highly qualified guest instructors who are local, professional artists. Our most popular adult art classes include drawing, painting, mixed media, and pottery. Affordable youth art classes provide school-aged children with an opportunity to explore and enhance their artistic abilities. The class schedule varies based on space and teaching staff availability.

Pottery students learn wheel-throwing and hand-building techniques (beginner to advanced).

Painting students can take a variety of classes including acrylic, abstract and water media.

Centennial Art Center

Centennial Park has become Nashville's premier Cultural Arts Park with a full-scale replica of the Parthenon as its centerpiece. Centennial Art Center, located in the northeast corner of Centennial Park, is the hub of Metro Parks' Visual Arts Program. Visual Arts is part of the larger Metro Parks' Cultural Arts Division, which also offers high-quality Dance, Music and Theater programs in the Centennial Performing Arts Studios (CPAS) located in the southwest corner of the park.

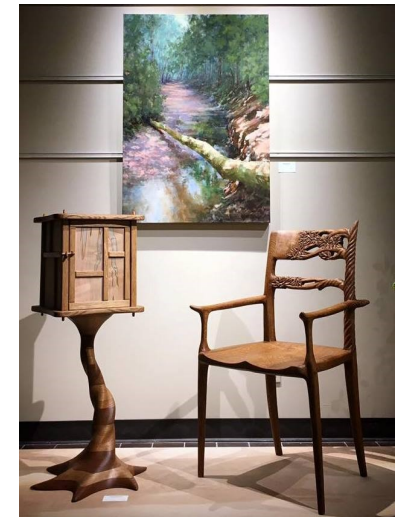

Studios

Centennial Art Center offers weekly art classes for adults. The building has a gallery that showcases local artists as well as an annual Student and Staff Holiday exhibit.

Visual Arts pottery studios provide mid-range firing with a wide variety of cone 6 glazes mixed by staff using raw materials.

Gallery

Centennial Art Center's Gallery hosts six gallery shows annually. These gallery receptions take place on designated Friday evenings from 5:00 p.m. - 7:30 p.m. and are free and open to the public. The gallery hosts numerous professional and emerging local and regional artists. Be sure to check our Gallery Schedule at: www.nashville.gov/cac.

CAC Gallery features local and regional artists.

Bellevue Community Center

As the Bellevue community continues to blossom and thrive, a larger, new regional center opened at the end of 2019. Within it are two new state-of-the-art Visual Arts studios offering pottery and painting classes. With over 3,000 square feet of designated art space, these studios offer the same level of sought after programs and expand the reach of Metro Parks' Visual Arts programming.

West Park Community Center

Nestled in The Nations neighborhood, West Park Community Center offers recreational programs for all ages. The addition of a pottery studio was realized in 2018 as an enhancement to the community center. The West Park studio is an intimate space for learning techniques and practicing the skills of creating with clay.

Herb Garden & Courtyard

Through a long-standing partnership, the Herb Society of Nashville maintains a beautiful herb garden in our courtyard making this a wonderful place to visit or have lunch in Centennial Park. Monday through Thursday from 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. the enclosed courtyard behind CAC is open to the public.

History

Metro Parks' Centennial Art Center (CAC) is a historic building located in Nashville's iconic Centennial Park. The facility was originally built as a swimming complex in 1932; it closed permanently during the unrest of the Civil Rights movement of the 1960's. In 1972 CAC became the first Metro Nashville facility rehabilitated for adaptive reuse. It reopened in 1972 as an art gallery and visual arts learning facility. In 2022, Centennial Art Center will celebrate its 50th anniversary as a Visual Arts facility.

Community Partnerships

Metro Parks' Visual Arts Program and Centennial Art Center maintain several Community Partnerships with various art organizations across Davidson County.

Most notably, the Frist Art Museum has long supported Metro Parks through their Art Trunks, a Community Outreach Program. Art Trunks provide training, supplies and curriculum to Metro Parks Community Centers. This program is designed to enrich the appreciation and understanding of Frist Art Museum exhibits and includes a free visit the Frist Art Museum.

In addition, Turnip Green Creative Reuse has also partnered with CAC providing art supplies for various art activities and youth programs.
