

On September 30, 2010, 21st District Metro Councilmember Edith Taylor Langster sponsored an area-wide community meeting to discuss the Connector project along with other area planned projects. The meeting was held at St. James Baptist Church and was well attended by elected and civic officials, area business and non-profit representatives, and District 21 residents.

Don Reid of Metro Public Works presented on the Connector and area projects and Jennifer Cole of Metro Arts Commission presented on the Public Art process. Audience members took part in a questions and answer session.

*"This is the time for North Nashville; everybody is saying when is North Nashville's turn? This is the time now."
Metro District 21 Councilmember
Edith Langster*

